

METHODS AND SYSTEMS FOR PROVIDING NAVIGATION WITHIN AN APPLICATION

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Systems and methods for providing navigation in an application may have a menu system that allow a user to see a menu with options for most or all of the possible navigable contexts without first displaying an intermediate context. A user may then go directly to a desired context rather than taking a circuitous route via intermediate contexts.